Vipul Malhotra

has successfully completed the

COLUMBIA COACHING CERTIFICATION PROGRAM (CCCP)

Cohort XVIII: Summer 2017 (Level 2, Conferred June 20, 2018)

The bearer of this certificate has completed a rigorous, evidence-based graduate-level development program and exemplifies the next generation of executive and organizational coaching professionals with the demonstrated capabilities needed to help clients achieve greatness, as a Certified Columbia Coach! The 8-12 month program requires the successful completion of a 5-day, front-end residential coach intensive; followed by an 8 month field-based practicum (logging a minimum of 50 hours with at least 5 clients under the supervision of program faculty, attending group supervision and coach demonstrations by leading practitioners, conducting coach-specific research, and maintaining a learning journal to promote reflective practice); and culminates with a 5-day advanced residential intensive (including a written knowledge-based exam and an oral competency-based exam). CCCP is offered for 12.6 continuing educational units (CEUs) as an authorized IACET provider.
